

MEDIASETespaña.

Madrid, 30th January 2013

The first clash, Spain-Uruguay, 6th February

MEDIASET ESPAÑA ACQUIRES THE BROADCASTING RIGHTS FOR THE COMING FRIENDLY MATCHES AND THE SPAIN'S CLASSIFICATION PHASE FOR THE 2014 WORLD CUP IN BRAZIL

- Mediaset Sport, will broadcast the Spanish teams clashes which they will play this year on Telecinco, Cuatro and Energy. Against Finland (22nd of March), France (26th March), Belarus (11th October) and Georgia (15th October) for the classification of The FIFA World Cup Brazil 2014
- The 12 friendly matches played by Vicente del Bosques Spanish team will be broadcast*

“The Reds”, the Spanish team, will return to Mediaset España after the acquisition of the broadcasting rights for the matches that the Spanish football team will play throughout this year: qualifying for the 2014 World Cup and the upcoming friendlies which the national team will play in preparation for the World Cup. Thus, fans can again enjoy the "beautiful game" on Mediaset Sport, through Telecinco, Cuatro and Energy.

Dos de estos choques amistosos podrían verse sustituidos por los partidos correspondientes al play off de clasificación para el Mundial, en el caso de que España finalice en segunda posición de su grupo*

Spain's decisive clashes in the qualifiers for the 2014 World Cup, also on Mediaset Sport

Mediaset Sport will broadcast throughout the year the qualifiers for the 2014 World Cup in which Spain is participating in Group I alongside France, Georgia, Belarus and Finland. The Spanish, who currently lead the group drawing on seven points with the selection gala, will play in the next World Championship against Finland (March 22nd), France (March 26th), Belarus (Oct. 11th) and Georgia (October 15th)

In the event that Spain finishes second in their group, they will have to play a two-legged match in November against one of the teams that have finished second in the other qualifying groups, matches which will also be broadcast by Mediaset Sport.

Spain-Uruguay, First friendly on Mediaset Sport, 6th February

The friendly matches played by the Spanish team in 2013 and 2014 will also be broadcast by the Mediaset Sport team. The first of the 12 friendlies planned in the Spanish teams calendar will be next Wednesday February 6th against Uruguay in Qatar.

Broadcasts of the Spanish team is a new challenge for Mediaset Sport

With the acquisition of the broadcasting rights of the Spanish teams matches, Mediaset España renews its commitment to broadcast exclusive first class sports competitions in which Mediaset Sport has offered events such as the European Football Championships, the MotoGP World Championship, the UEFA Europa League matches in the Copa del Rey, the tennis tournament Roland Garros and the semifinals and final of the FIFA Club World Cup, among others, supporting our athletes in their impeccable wins against historical records of audience.

GABINETE DE PRENSA

MEDIASET*españa.*

